

MARGARET LAMBERT, LCSW

is a psychotherapist, educator and author. She is co-owner of Sonas Behavioral Health, LLC located on Madison’s west side. In 2004 Margaret formed Puffins Presentation, LLC out of which she teaches relationship related classes. She brings extensive training and experience related to the topics of dating, marriage, marital conflict, divorce recovery and self-esteem.

In 2004 Margaret developed the course Dating Dementia: Keeping Your Brain in the Dating Game and has since completed the book for that course. In 2010 she developed Rebuilding at Bethel, a three part program designed to assist individuals through the separation and divorce process. Margaret teaches the class Rebuilding: When Your Relationship Ends within that program.

In 2012 Margaret created two more classes: Beyond the Looking Glass, a women’s self-esteem and relationship class as well as Quest: A Man’s Personal Journey to Reclaim Self-Esteem.

Her students describe her as enthusiastic, approachable, caring, and passionate about the work she has chosen to do.

Quest: A Man's Personal Journey

This ten week course is designed to help men discover what it means to feel whole, worthwhile, competent, and adequate so they can return to a place of personal power and wisdom. Students learn practical skills for building confidence through reading, journaling, brief lectures, class discussion and experiential tasks.

The concepts taught in this course help men understand what factors diminish self-esteem and how to actively participate in rebuilding their own psychological health.

What others have said about this class:

- ✚ I've spent months in therapy but this class explained so much and gave me the tools I was missing to make further progress. Jeff K.
- ✚ I've learned to speak up for myself so I don't feel walked over anymore. Matt M.
- ✚ The class environment felt so safe and this made it easy to open up with everyone in class. I never felt judged. Tom D.
- ✚ I have always struggled with making decisions. Now I feel more confident and less likely to feel like a failure if things don't turn out the first time. Chad Z.
